STORY

210KI

There were Nymphs once. The ancients believed these girls were haunted. They live in the woods above the trees. These trees were very huge. They also have different names depending on where they live, such as Nymphs in the tree family, in the flower family. Each Nymphs has different tasks depending on where she lives. Some Nymph also do favor, others do evil. They go into a flower to escape humans and no one can not see them. When they get into the flower they shrink.

Nymphs

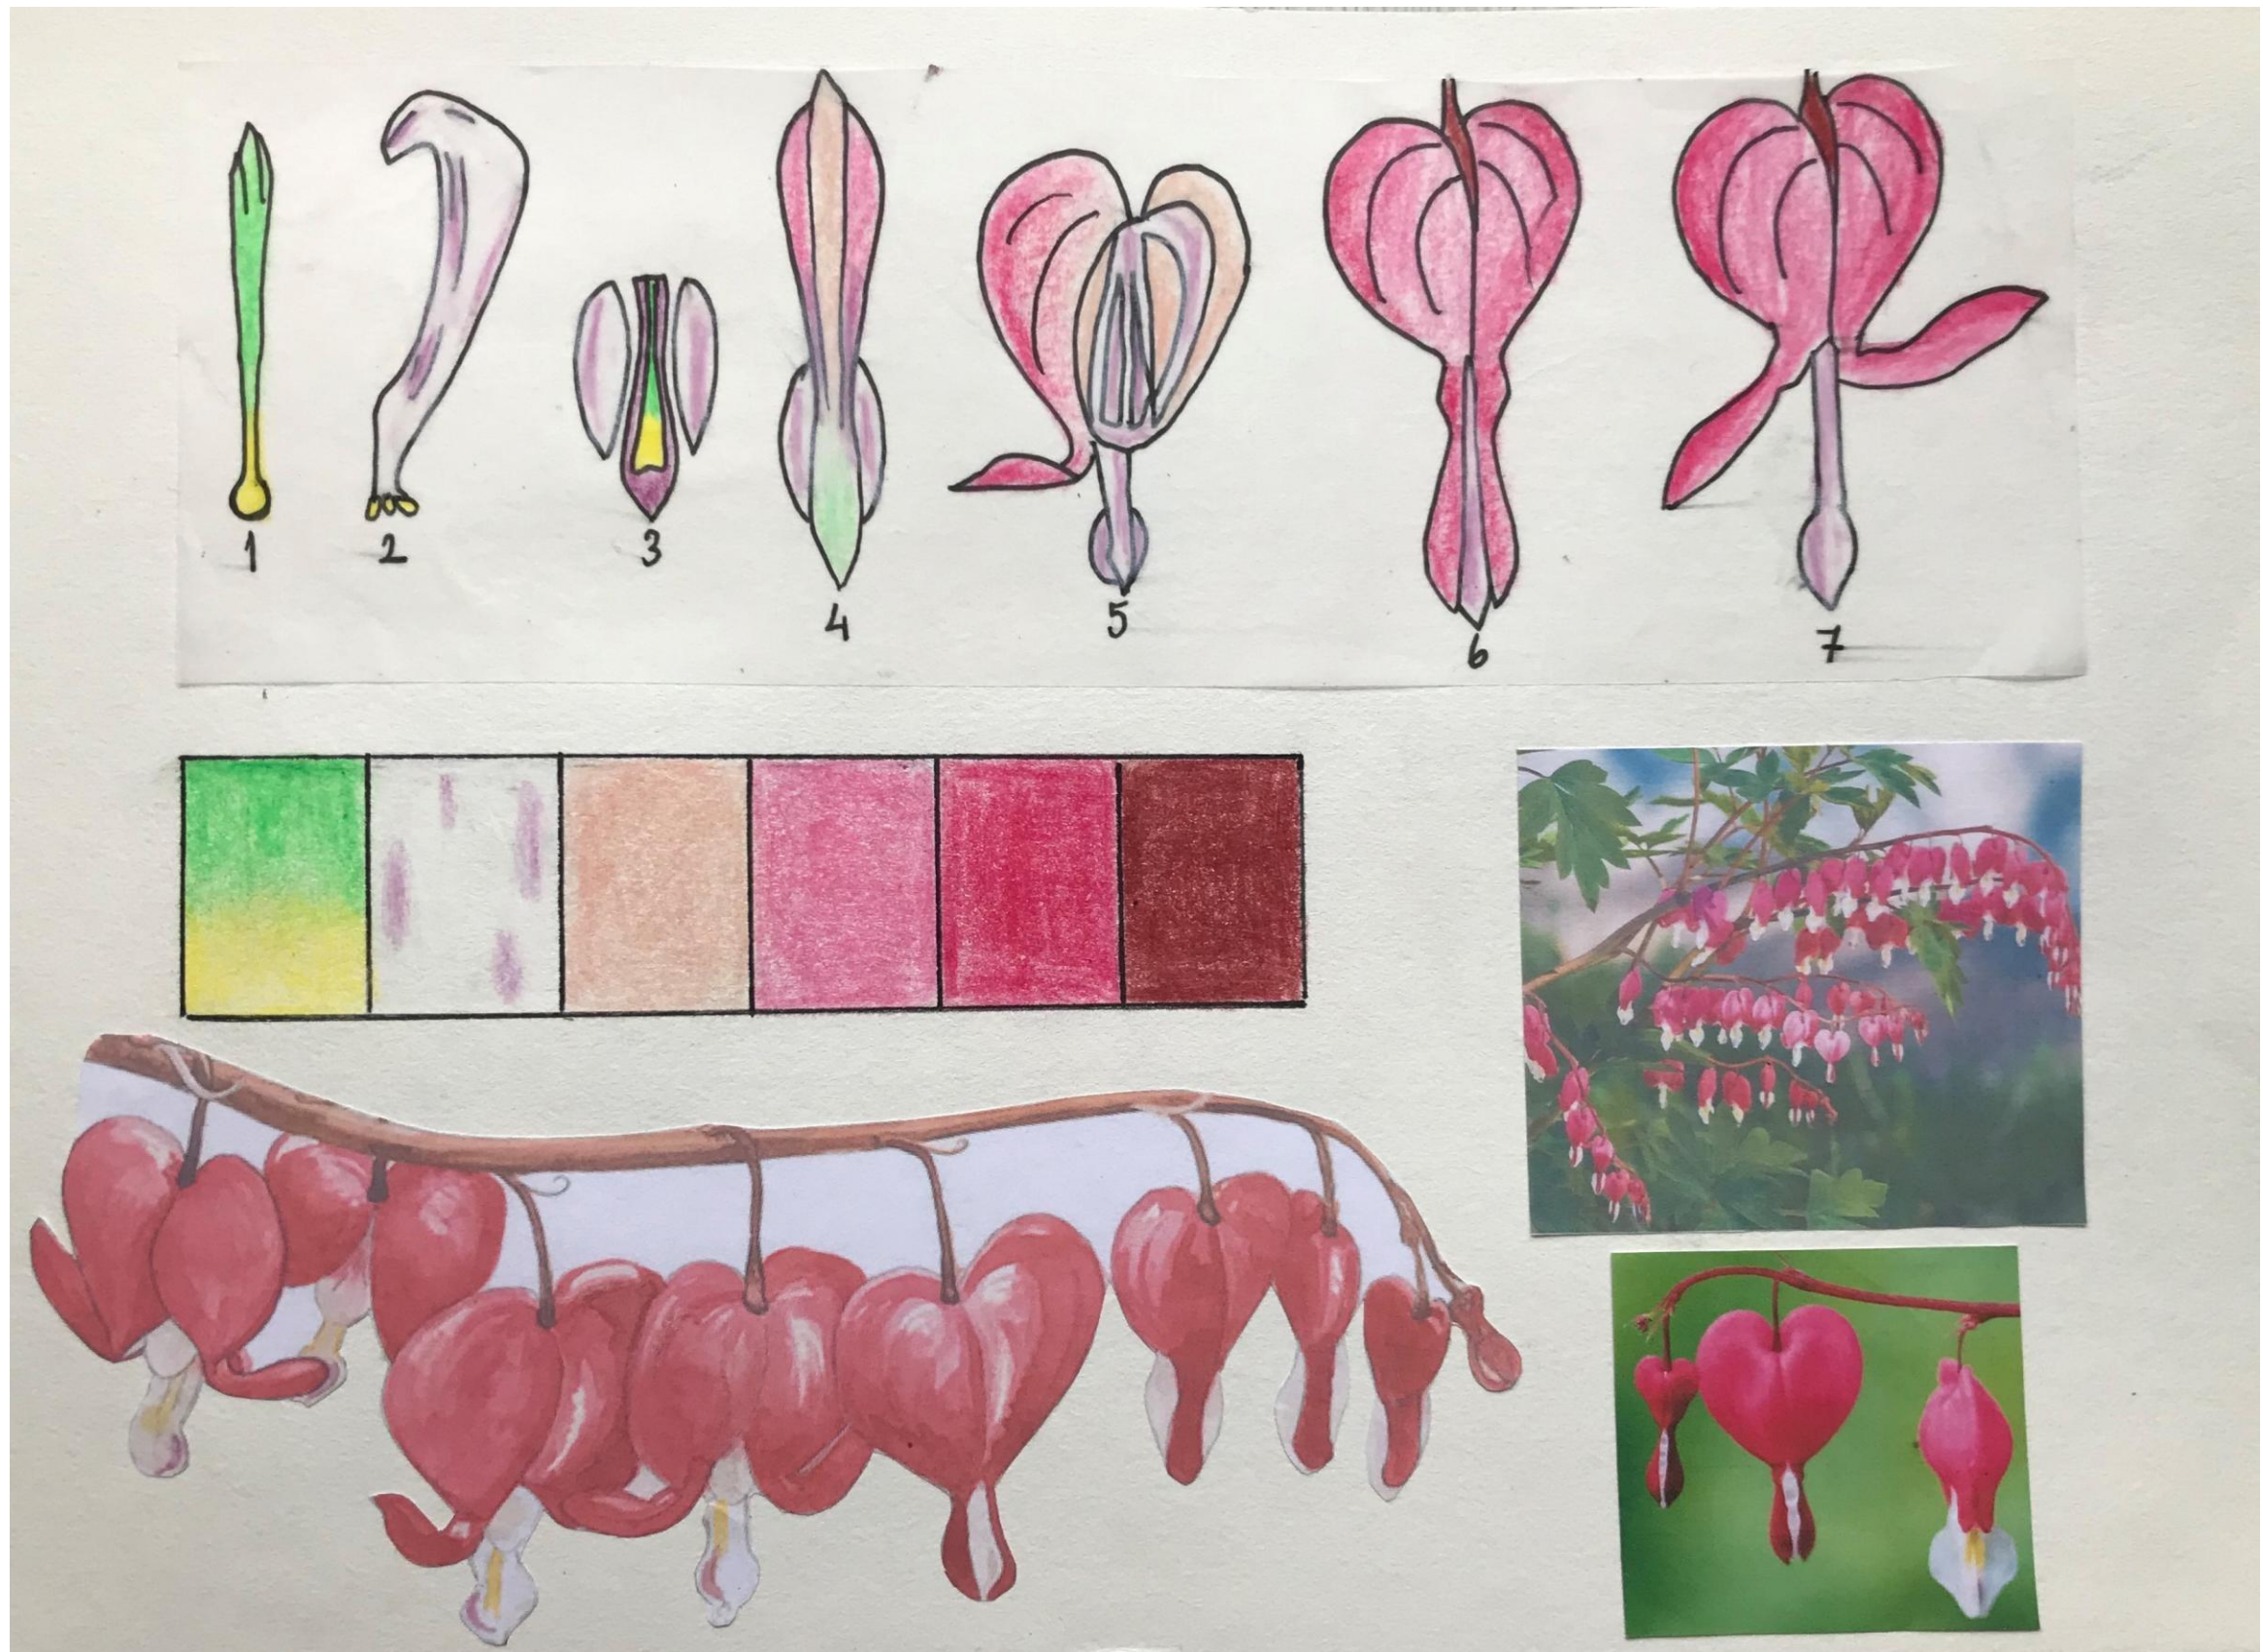

Those flowers are called Bleeding Heads. The weeping hearts flower is the most romantic flower in the world that are heart-shaped. It opens from spring to the end of summer. It is also a perennial herb and can be planted in any season. It will last 45 degrees Celsius. This flower recognizes the they that enter it and changes color accordingly.

No one could not see them because if they were naked it could cause blindness and death. By the way, Nymphs were very young and beautiful women. They had slanted big eyes and long ears. They were slim and very tall. They always were dresses were that represented the tribe they lived in.
